Mayor meets young carers

Marie celebrates her century milestone with double party

Marie Tyrer celebrates her 100th birthday at Bath Springs Court with deputy mayor, Councillor Liz Savage and her consort, Councillor Noel Delaney. Code1081887

ONE of the town's oldest residents celebrated her 100th birthday with not one party but two!

Marie Tyrer, who lives at Bath Springs Court, Ormskirk enjoyed a party at the council–run sheltered housing complex with family, friends and special guest, Deputy Mayor of West Lancs, Councillor Liz Savage.

And she followed that up with a trip to the Fiveways pub for a second celebration attended by her brother and her sister, who she hasn't seen for 30 years.

Marie also received a congratulatory card from the Queen and one from the government's pensions minister Iain Duncan Smith.

Elsie Forshaw, warden at Bath Springs Court, said: "Marie had two fantastic celebrations, she is a really lovely person and all of her friends from Bath Springs and before she moved here, as well as her family, showered her with gifts and flowers to celebrate her special birthday."

RESIDENTS LEFT 'LET DOWN' BY SOLAR FARM CONSULTATION

Report by Danielle Thompson

ANGRY Aughton residents say they felt "let down" following a consultation event to discuss proposed solar farms at Back Lane and Formby Lane.

Around 60 residents attended the meeting at St Michael's church hall, along with seven representatives from developers, BE Renewables.

However, according to local campaigners, the company refused to answer questions about their track record in solar farm development and failed to provide detailed responses to residents' concerns.

To date, more than 500 letters have been submitted to West Lancs Council's planning website in response to the proposals.

Chair of the Protect Aughton's Landscape Together (PALT) group, Paul Bewick, said many of those attending told him they felt intimidated by the way the meeting was handled with others expressing frustration that questions weren't answered.

He said: "For the vast majority of people attending this was the first opportunity to hear from the company as there has been no consultation to date and a chance to put to them the many questions and concerns we have about these applications.

"It was simply not acceptable to be told in no uncertain terms that our questions weren't relevant and also not to be given any reassurances around our concerns about wildlife, access, consultation, visual impact and the effect on the Green Belt agricultural land, to name but a few.

"I'm sure BE Renewables wouldn't have intended for so many people to be offended by the tone of the speakers but sadly that is how people felt as they left.

"The tone and chairmanship of the meeting was very badly handled and the content and quality of both the visual and verbal presentations was so poor that it left people feeling angry and frustrated and that is a pretty poor indictment for a company that claims to be highly experienced in this type of business"

A spokesperson for BE Renewables said: "We're very pleased that so many people came along to our public exhibition about Back Lane and Formby Lane solar farms.

Dance Festival returns to Coronation Park

THE annual Ormskirk Dance Festival will be held on Saturday (July 4) at Coronation Park.

The Divine Days Community Art project, which aims to make the arts accessible to all including the most vulnerable in the community, has teamed up with West Lancs Council to host the event from noon to 4pm.

With bases in Burscough and Skelmersdale, the project was founded by Katie Whitehead, who runs therapeutic and educational programmes for individuals with additional needs, including creative dance and drama workshops.

Members of the project's dance group, the Divine Dancers, who rehearse at the Greenhill Community Hub in Old Skelmersdale, have joined forces with the council to stage the free event.

Dancer Mandy Leonard with members of Divine Days,who will host the Ormskirk Dance Festival

As well as groups showcasing a variety of styles, from traditional morris dancing to street dance, the festival will feature a funfair, bouncy castle, face–painting, craft and community stalls, and entertainment including a brass band.

Katie Whitehead said: "We are proud to be heading up this year's Ormskirk Dance Festival with the council and West Lancashire Rangers Service."

Water companys first step towards creating Lathom solar power site

Report by Danielle Thompson

A SOLAR development the size of 10 football pitches could be created to provide electricity for a waste–water treatment works in Lathom.

Water and waste–water company United Utilities has taken the first step towards a planning application for a huge development of two sections of rows of free–standing three–metre solar panels by requesting a 'screening opinion' from West Lancashire Borough Council.

The proposal is for rows of south–facing photovoltaic panels on two sections of land totalling 7.8 hectares of land at the Wigan Wastewater Treatment Works on Deans Lane in Lathom.

The planned development would be split across two sections, Site A which is 2.2 hectares (the size of 3 football pitches) and Site B, which is 5.6 hectares (the size of 7 pitches).

The proposed 25–year development would feed directly into the waste–water treatment plant to meet part of its electricity demand.

It would require two inverter stations and although unmanned, CCTV would be positioned at regular intervals along the site boundary, typically every 100 metres and up to four metres high.

Applicants who are seeking planning permission for a solar farm may ask the planning authority for a 'screening opinion' before submitting the application to identify projects that are likely to have significant effects on the environment.

The council's assistant director of planning's decision on the screening opinion stated that an environmental impact statement would not be needed for the development as it is not in a 'sensitive' planning area or environmentally sensitive; the environmental impact would not be of more than local significance; and the development would not result in unusually complex or potentially hazardous environmental effects.

The company may now submit a planning application for the scheme without completing an environmental impact statement.

Cafe scheme for former shop site was 'contrary to Local Plan policies'

By Danielle Thompson

COUNCIL chiefs have defended their decision to block a bid to turn an Ormskirk shop into a restaurant or café on the grounds that it was contrary to policies in the Local Plan and had the potential to harm the town centre's viability.

The planning application submitted to West Lancs Council for a change of use of the Shoe Zone shop in Aughton Street was rejected by the authority's planning committee, a decision that welcomed by local pressure group Our West Lancashire.

A spokesperson for the council said: "The planning application for a change of use of the Shoe Zone shop on Aughton Street into a restaurant or cafe was rejected because the council believed the proposal could potentially harm the vitality and viability of the town centre, contrary to retail policies contained in the council's Local Plan.

"The council had an excellent response to the extensive public consultation on the draft Ormskirk Town Centre Strategy earlier in 2015. We are grateful to everyone who responded and this will help us in our work to ensure that Ormskirk town centre continues to be an attractive place to shop and has a vibrant future.

"All of the comments and representations we received are in the process of being considered. The strategy will now be on the agenda for the September meeting of the council cabinet.

"Ormskirk town centre has consistently low retail vacancy rates. The latest figures from retail experts Springboard show that the vacancy rates stand at 4.8%, compared to 10.2% nationally.

"The council regularly monitors vacancy rates in the town centre and has excellent connections with many property agents and will help to market properties free of charge.

"The council offers a free service whereby we list vacant West Lancashire properties in our 'Locate in West Lancashire' database www.westlancs.gov.uk/locate which is accessible to all."

Mayor plays host to young carers

Code1081432

THE Mayor of West Lancashire, Councillor Nikki Hennessy, has hosted a reception for young carers from across the region.

Cllr. Hennessy invited seven young carers aged between seven and 12, along with four members of staff from Barnardo's Lancashire Young Carers service to the event at the council offices in Derby Street, Ormskirk.

The service, which supports young carers and their families, is one of the mayor's chosen charities for her civic year.

The purpose of the get–together was to give her the chance get to know the youngsters, as well as getting them involved in the fundraising.

The youngsters came up with lots of fundraising ideas and said they were excited to be part of the mayor's year.

Cllr. Hennessy, who was accompanied on the night by her daughter, Sophia and deputy mayor, Councillor Liz Savage, said: "Our young carers give up their precious childhood to care for a family member when they should be the ones who are being cared for. Yet they do it selflessly and with great kindness and love.

"The young people who came to the reception were charming, kind, respectful and full of humour. They had lots of ideas and suggestionsm, as well as questions about being mayor. The evening has set my year off to a great start."

Developers reveal plans for Aughton care village

By Danielle Thompson

PLANS are in the pipeline for a huge care village in Aughton.

Gloucester–based developers English Care Villages Limited have announced plans for a 48–bed care home, up to 80 assisted living apartments, and a wellness centre with spa pool, restaurant, café bar and hairdressing salon on Winifred Lane.

The developers will hold two public consultation and exhibition events on the planned Aughton Care Village on Friday (July 3) from 2pm to 7pm and Saturday (July 4) from 10am to 3pm, with a question–and–answer forum on Saturday at 11am at St Michael's church hall.

They claim that the proposed development would create more than 100 local jobs.

Keith Cockell, chairman and managing director of English Care Villages, said that the group holds consultations in locations that could be viable and planning applications are only submitted if the feedback from local residents, politicians and the planning authority are all positive.

If the consultations prove positive, the developers would be looking to submit an application to the borough council within the next six to nine months, and if granted, will be aiming to compete the project within the next two to three years.

Mr Cockell told the Champion: "We would be looking at using a new model for the 48–bed care home – four groups of 12 residents making up their own section with a shared bathroom and living room, small enough to get to know each other well and each section of 12 could be targeted at particular needs.

"We would also be looking at 70 to 80 assisted living apartments as there is a predicted boom in the population of over–75s, who could have difficulties in walking or getting about but don't want to go into a traditional care home.

An artist's impression of English Care Village assisted living apartments

"There are 10,500 people over the age of 75 in West Lancashire now and this is expected to rise to to 16,400 by 2030. Around half these older people live alone and are at significantly higher risk of suffering from loneliness, depression and other illness.

"We want older people to have the opportunity to enjoy the rest of their lives not just endure it. We wouldn't want a gated community, we would want it to be part of the wider community.

"Obviously many people will prefer to stay at home with family support and we understand that, but they would be welcome to come in to use the facilities and spend time with the residents as we would be looking to tackle loneliness right across the community."

Death of former football star

By Neil Leatherbarrow

A FORMER professional footballer who went on to create a local legacy in the sport, especially in the Burscough area, has died at the age of 79.

After being 'spotted' playing forces football during National Service, Larry Carberry joined Ipswich Town as a professional on leaving the army.

Quickly forcing his way into the first team, under the management of a certain Alf Ramsey, Larry helped the club to win the Third Division South title in the 1956/57 season.

That success was followed by a Second Division title in 1960/1 before the unfashionable East Anglian club claimed the then ultimate prize in English football by being crowned Division One champions in 1961/62.

Now the proud possessor of championship medals from all three of England's top divisions, Larry then went on to sample European

Residents say solar farm consultation was a 'let–down'

"We welcomed the project specific feedback given by local residents. A high majority of those who gave us written responses at the exhibition were in favour of our proposals for clean renewable energy in the area.

"Much of the informal session included conversations about wildlife and visual impact, including the biodiversity enhancements that can be provided within the solar farms; as well as more information about the community benefit fund – a sum of over £170,000 that can be used for good causes within the local area.

"BE Renewables would like to thank everyone for their attendance and will continue to work with the local community as the project progresses."

School strike gold in Chairman's Challenge

Report by Henry James

Ormskirk School's winning team

PUPILS and teachers at Ormskirk School are celebrating after being awarded gold in the Family Involvement category at the Lancashire County Council Chairman's Challenge.

The annual competition encourages schools, children's centres, pupils and families to come up with innovative ideas to improve their school or local area.

Hillside Community Primary School in Skelmersdale was also highly commended in the same section.

The themes for the Chairman's Challenge are based on the 'Five ways to wellbeing' –connecting with others, being active, taking notice of things around you, continuing to learn and giving to others.

The 17 school finalists went to County Hall to make a presentation in front of the judges and try to take the title of Chairman's Challenge Champions 2015.

Ormskirk school received £1,000 towards their activities.

County Councillor Margaret Brindle, chairman of the county council, said: "It was a pleasure to welcome each of these schools to County Hall. The wide range of activities carried out for the Chairman's Challenge made it difficult for the judges to choose this year's winners.

"All of the activities have made a difference to their schools and their local communities and we're proud of each and every school that took part.

"The Chairman's Challenge encourages children and young people to develop creative and innovative ways to encourage their friends and families to make positive lifestyle choices.

"Even though this year's challenge has finished, we hope that the activities they've been doing will still carry on, so that they continue to benefit themselves, their school and the area where they live."

In the school categories, activities are planned and carried out by the pupils themselves. Schools compete in one of three categories: primary, secondary and special/short stay.

The Family Involvement category encourages parents, carers and families to get involved. This can be led by the school council, parent and teacher groups, or other groups. This category is also open to children's centres.

Town–centre parking arrangements changed

WEST Lancs Council chiefs believe that changes to parking arrangements in Ormskirk town centre, due to come into force today (Wednesday, July 1), will benefit motorists visiting the town.

Under the new arrangements free parking will be available for up to four hours on Saturdays at the car park by the borough council offices on Derby Street.

However, drivers parking there will still need to get a ticket from the pay and display machines to ensure they do not receive a penalty charge notice.

On all other days, visitors to the council offices can park for up to 30 minutes free of charge on this car park, after which chagres will be payable.

Changes are also being made to the town's short–stay car parks.

Shoppers and visitors will be able to park for a maximum of four hours Monday to Saturday, whereas currently they can only stay for a maximum of two hours. Drivers will have to pay for the extra parking time.

The car parks affected are at Ormskirk bus station; Lunesdale (off Moorgate); Market Way (next to Marks and Spencer) and Park Road (at the rear of the former Tesco store).

The changes do not apply to the Wheatsheaf car park, located by B&M Bargains and Wetherspoons.

Parking will continue to be free all day on all West Lancs Council car parks in Ormskirk on Sundays and bank holidays.

Shoppers will still be able to park for free for one hour on the Park Road car park.

Double award winner is the Pride of St Mark's!

Report by Danielle Thompson

A TEACHING assistant at a West Lancashire primary school has won two regional awards for excellence.

Jan Lyness, who works at St Mark's CE Primary School in Scarisbrick, scored her prestigious 'double' in the Lancashire County Council Pride Awards – which recognise individuals who are doing an exceptional job – winning a Customer Service award and being named Employee of The Year .

She has worked at the Southport Road school for 20 years, liaising with teachers to meet the personal, social and curriculum–related needs of pupils.

As the staff governor, she is also responsible for implementing health and safety guidelines, while her various other roles include parent–school advisor.

The Employee of the Year award rewards an individual who has gone the extra mile in their job to achieve something amazing, or overcome adversity in their professional life to continue to deliver an excellent service, making them an ambassador for the county council and a role model to their colleagues.

Pride and joy...Jan Lyness with her two Lancashire County Council Pride awards

The Customer Service Award rewards individuals who have improved the lives of those they work with, continually providing an excellent service and receiving positive feedback.

The term 'customers' is used to describe those receiving the internal or external services provided by the staff member in Mrs Lyness' case this refers to the school's pupils.

Headteacher, Marilyn Freeman, said: "Mrs Lyness is a well–respected, well–loved and vital part of the school and community. I am pleased that she was nominated for these awards and that she has now been recognised for all her exceptional dedication and hard work in winning not one but two Pride awards."

'Amazing'

A modest Jan Lyness said: "I just do my job to the best of my ability. I'm really touched to have been nominated in the first place but to win both of these awards is amazing. It's great to see the children develop and learn which is why I do this job.

"It's a brilliant school, as a team we want the children to use their mind, have fun through learning and experience new things. Children don't stay small for very long and their time at primary school should always be full of happy memories."

Crowds flock to heritage weekend...

VISITORS flocked to Burscough's Heritage Festival at the Wharf last weekend.

Organisers described the two–day event as the busiest since it moved to the Wharf four years ago.

Visitors were entertained with music from the Skelmersdale Prize Brass Band and there were talks, demonstrations and photographic displays depicting the area's rich history on the waterways.

Vintage bus services operated from Ormksirk to Burscough Wharf every half–hour throughout both days and there were also horse–and–cart rides around the village.

Volunteers in period costume from the H & R Ainscough Barge Society welcomed visitors to view their two 1930s working barges historically used to carry imported grain to Burscough and Parbold Mills.

The event was organised by Burscough Heritage Group in conjunction with Burscough Wharf and the H&R Ainscough Barge Restoration Project Group.

Burscough Wharf site manager, Ray Eckersley, said: "The weekend was a huge success, it was great to see the courtyard so busy with visitors during both days, while over the canal the activities and demonstrations were also very popular."

The Booths supermarket traditional delivery van was one of the many attractions at the Burscough Wharf Heritage weekend. Code1081922

Mum brings Sing and Sign scheme to town

Jayne hosting a Sing and Sign baby class

Report by Danielle Thompson

AN Ormskirk mum has set up a local branch of an innovative programme that aims to improve hearing babies' communication skills by using sign language.

Jayne Brown has set up a franchise of the national Sing and Sign baby signing scheme at the Chapel Gallery in St Helens Road.

Classes are divided into two age groups, one suitable for babies up to the age of seven months and the other for those aged between six and 18 months.

Jayne, who has worked with pre–school children since 1989 when she started as a nursery officer in a child development centre, says that the classes encourage communication before speech, as well as enhancing early vocabulary and understanding, leading to language development, improved attention and listening and reduced frustration.

She said: "Having signed with babies and young children in my job for many years, I have seen the benefits of signing. So when I had my own children, there was no doubt that I would use it with them.

"The first time my son signed, 'milk' I was so excited and emotional that we understood each other. I truly believe that signing with your children is a highly rewarding experience of early parenthood. Now I want to share that with other parents.

"I'm thrilled to be bringing Sing and Sign to Ormskirk and the surrounding areas and I have free taster sessions available during July and August."

Permits: Where will this nonsense stop?

We recently celebrated 800 years of Magna Carta out of which came common law over the following centuries and remains in our system of law to this day, despite what others may claim.

When unelected public servants, who are there to do our bidding and not the other way round, attempt to impose taxes at an outrageous level, and obtain our money without our consent, they are, in my opinion, acting unlawfully.

I am referring to the Champion story on the tipping of domestic rubble – a facility which has existed in West Lancashire for at least 30 years and has always been paid for through local and central government taxation. In other words we have well paid for the facility to tip a 25KG bag of old cement and bricks.

To attempt to tax on top of that is unjustifiable.

As far as permits go, where will this nonsense stop, we will soon require a permit to leave the house! The public servants we employ need to be reminded of who employs them and why.

I for one will not be paying any tax for a service I already pay for and I most certainly will not be asking permission from an unelected unaccountable bully in our local council offices for a permit to carry out a simple basic activity which most of us need from time to time.

A Garner, Skemersdale.

Vulnerable tenants appreciate someone looking in on them

IN response to Ken Walters' letter (Champion, June 17) headed 'Amazed at this stupid system.' Surely this tenant had it explained to him how sheltered accommodation works before moving in.

The property has a pull–cord system that connects to a call centre whose staff are then able to send wardens or the best emergency service required to deal with the situation.

The wardens' duties on sheltered accommodation are to visit the occupier on a daily/weekly basis to check on their wellbeing and safety and definitely not to tick boxes, as claimed by Mr Walters.

I'm sure it's not a job which is cushy as I'm sure anyone who has pulled a cord at 3 o'clock in the morning to get assistance will testify. There are many vulnerable residents who appreciate having someone to look in on them on a regular basis and many more who would like to be in sheltered accommodation but are waiting for housing to become available.

This is an excellent service for a community to have, it also offers peace of mind to the families of those residents who may be classed as vulnerable and many people would like a nice place in Ormskirk with a warden and pull–cord system in place that Mr Walters clearly does not need or want.

Mrs Beckett,
Ormskirk

Quick call all that is needed to clear up horse mess

IN response to Walter Lonsdale's interesting letter about the mess left by police horses.

In Liverpool, the police rider makes a quick call to an environmental number and they clear up the dung.

However, the important difference between horse dung and dog dirt is that the horse dung is not toxic and dangerous to health – dog dirt is.

Garden of delights!

I ATTENDED the National Gardens Scheme's Open Day event on Ludlow Drive in Ormskirk on Sunday, June 21 and would like to say well done to this couple.

It was a lovely day out and all to raise funds for charity.

I went along, as did many others, to see this garden with English roses alongside many other plants, a fantastic fish pond, greenhouse and a bee house where they actually keep bees!

They have many different plants, including cacti and red hot pokers, there was tea and cakes served (the cakes were lovely) and there were also plants on sale.

Proceeds from the event go to The National Gardens Scheme's beneficiary charities.

Well done!

Two cinemas wrong

Regarding the arrival of two cinemas in Skelmersdale, should that ever happen.

It's like waiting an age for a bus to arrive then umpteen come at once!

People in Skem need their heads banging together because it's obvious a town like ours cannot sustain two picture houses.

Think again the powers that be.

Don't keep a dog if you are out all day

Why do people keep dogs and annoy everyone else with them?

Barking all the time is the worst.

And why do they keep a dog when they are out all day?

I don't see the sense in it.

I am sure it must the latest fashion to have one.

I would say it is cruel.

People are very selfish and only think about themselves.

You can train dogs if you care about them.

Don't just get one and let it annoy everyone else.

Allow option of paper bills

There are more than 6 million carers in the UK, doing an amazing job after finding themselves in the position of caring for someone who may be older, disabled or seriously ill.

Whether your caring role comes as a surprise or whether the needs of the person you care for have changed, carers often have to pick up the household's financial management at little notice.

This is hard enough, but without a paper trail, it is nigh on impossible.

Until relatively recently someone taking on a caring role could run somebody else's finances pretty straightforwardly, with the appropriate authorisations.

Even if you were caring for someone whose filing system wasn't up to scratch, you could gauge the state of accounts pretty clearly from the regular paperwork that companies were sending out.

The last decade has seen a wholesale change in how service providers communi–cate. Banks have relentlessly advocated switching people to online accounts, sometimes automatically.

Energy companies lure people in with the promise of lower bills if they don't have to send out a paper copy.

When you're caring for someone, the last thing you need is additional complications – or worse, the thought of having services cut off if you don't pay the bill that you now can't readily access.

And nobody wants to be quizzing a frail or sick dependent about their passwords and service providers.

Surely giving people that choice makes sense.

Care home's tearoom treat

MAYOR of West Lancs, Councillor Nikki Hennessy and local Dementia champion, Joe Sherville were among the guests when the Hillcroft care home hosted a café event for residents suffering from dementia and their families and friends.

The 11–bed 'Horizon' dementia wing at the home in Long Lane, Aughton was transformed into a traditional tearoom for the day, complete with teapots, traditional china cups and saucers, peppermint, ginger and camomile loose leaf teas and homemade cakes and scones.

Hillcroft events organiser, Lesley Malone, said: "Our residents tell me you can't get a better taste than using loose tea leaves and Theresa Fleming from local tea company Marshside Teas came in to provide us with a large selection.

"It was a lovely day. It just felt like we could have been sitting in an actual tearoom or café with the atmosphere of days gone by enjoying a nice cup of 'proper' tea."

County's 'no' to fracking bid welcomed

AN anti–fracking campaigner from Halsall has welcomed Lancashire County Council's decision to refuse two planning applications to frack in the county.

Tony Young from Halsall Against Fracking, which was set up earlier this year to fight applications to frack in the region, welcomed the decision to refuse the applications by energy company Cuadrilla.

In landmark decisions, the county rejected the company's plans to frack at Roseacre Wood, near Kirkham and at Preston New Road in Little Plumpton.

Members of Halsall Against Fracking joined members of Frack Free Lancashire and other campaign groups at the Don't Frack Lancs rally against the fracking applications at Lancashire County Hall, Preston on Saturday (June 27).

Tony Young said: "More than 90,000 people from all over Lancashire sent in objections to the county council against these fracking applications.

"The consequences to us in 10 to 20 years' time are unimaginable to most people growing up in this country. People in the USA and Australia who are living in the hellish shadow of commercial fracking operations are trying their best to warn us – but people just don't grasp it easily and the government refuses to engage with these fears.

"Even the economics of fracked gas make no sense – let alone the health and property value implications.

"We will continue to campaign against all fracking applications that are submitted for Lancashire."

West Lancs MP Rosie Cooper also welcomed the decision.

She said: "Being opposed to fracking and having voted for a moratorium I wholeheartedly support this decision.

"No doubt this is not the end of the fight. It is important that residents' voices continue to be heard over the interests of big business."

Borough pays tribute to our Armed Forces

Report by Danielle Thompson

VETERANS and council officials marked the service and sacrifices made by the armed forces at a special event to commemorate Armed Forces Day.

The ceremony at the war memorial in Coronation Park, Ormskirk was attended by service veterans along with Mrs Gail Stanley, Deputy Lieutenant of Lancashire, Mayor of West Lancs, Councillor Nikki Hennessy, council leader Councillor Ian Moran, the borough's armed forces champion, Councillor Terry Devine and other councillors and officials.

Also in attendance were representatives of Lancashire Fire and Rescue Service, members of 1026 (Ormskirk) Squadron, Royal Air Force Air Cadets and 1st Ormskirk scouts and cubs.

Skelmersdale Prize Band performed prior to Mrs Stanley formally presenting the Ministry of Defence flag to Councillor Hennessy who then gave the flag to Tony Hamer, of Skelmersdale Ex–Services Association.

The Reverend Stuart Haynes said a short prayer and Mr Hamer said: "Today we have great pride in paying tribute to the men and women who defend Britain. Today we also remember the sacrifices made by the veterans of conflict. I hope that you will all join me today in paying homage to our armed forces past and present who serve our country each day with pride and dignity."

The flag is raised at Ormskirk war memorial Code1081784

Councillor Hennessy then passed the flag to air cadet Harry Startup, from Ormskirk 1026 Squadron, who had the honour of raising the flag.

Cllr. Hennessy said: "We were honoured to receive this flag as a tribute to all our armed services, who have served in the past and are serving today. It is with pride that the borough of West Lancashire shows its support by dedicating this moment to them. We trust that this ceremony will be remembered with warmth and affection by all men and women who are serving or have served the colours.

"Our armed forces make many sacrifices to serve and protect their country and I was honoured to play a role as Mayor of West Lancashire in this ceremony. Personally, my family are proud servicemen and women. My husband and I both served for over 30 years each with the Territorial Army.

"One of our daughters is in the RAF, the other has followed in my footsteps serving with the TA and our son is going to Lymeston in July to do his selection for the Royal Marines. We know what a sacrifice families make to serve this country."

Church nostalgia day

MAYOR of West Lancashire, Councillor Nikki Hennessey will open a Day of Nostalgia at Emmanuel Church, Derby Street, Ormskirk on Saturday, July 11.

The event will run from 10am to 4pm and among the items on display will be 15 vintage wedding dresses, wartime memorabilia and vintage toys.

There will also be a range of stalls and refreshments will be on sale including coffee and cakes, light lunches and afternoon teas.

Admission is £1 for adults and free for children and proceeds will go towards the refurbishment of the church.

Charity raises fears of 'worried generation'

Report by Henry James

MORE than 1,000 16 and 17–year–olds in West Lancashire are so anxious that they have suffered sleepless nights in the last year – according to research by a charity.

A report by The Children's Society suggests we are in danger of creating a 'worried generation' with 29% of 16 and 17–year–olds in the North West also saying they frequently feel anxious and 73% saying they have felt judged simply for being a teenager.

The figures, based on an Opinium poll of more than 1,000 16 and 17–year–olds across the UK, have been released to coincide with the launch of society's new report, Seriously Awkward.

The survey found that, nationally, 25% of 16 and 17–year–olds say they often feel sad, and one in four say they do not feel optimistic about the future.

The concern is mirrored among parents, with 70% saying that life is tougher for their teenagers than it was for them.

The society's Seriously Awkward campaign highlights the challenges that 16 and 17–year–olds face.

Rob Jackson

They are more likely to go missing or be a victim of violent crime than any other age group. They are also at a high risk of sexual exploitation and domestic violence.

Officials at the charity believe the youngsters are being systematically let down by the law and do not get the same basic safeguards as younger children.

And the society is lobbying for a change in the law to protect children aged 16 and 17 from abuse and neglect, and ensure that support services, such as Child and Adolescent Mental Health services, always treat them as children and offer them support when they need it.

The charity says an estimated half–a–million 16 and 17–year–olds across the UK face particular risk of harm because they are already dealing with multiple issues such as poverty, poor health or a lack of supportive relationships.

A spokesman for The Children's Society said: "At the time when these teenagers need the most help, support for things such as mental health or housing is woefully inadequate and they often fall through the gaps between children's and adult services.

"The lack of provision for teenagers with mental health problems means many are placed on adult mental health wards or, in some cases, have even been detained in police cells."

They say almost half of 16 and 17–year–olds asking their council for help with homelessness are turned away without being assessed for support.

Rob Jackson, area director for The Children's Society in the North West, said: "This research reveals that a generation of teenagers are being let down by society.

"For the most vulnerable teenagers, those suffering from abuse, neglect and homelessness, and mental health issues, the future can be even more bleak."

Cloudy2Clear Windows – Service With A Smile!

It's been a crazy few months for Cloudy2Clear Windows. The company which specialises in repairing windows which are steamed up, broken or damaged by replacing the panes – not the frames has grown rapidly as homeowners take advantage of their services.

Manager Paul Kane feels that it's all about service. 'Our product is simple. If your double glazing is misted up we can replace the glass at a fraction of the cost of a new window, in any type of frame, and with a new 10 year guarantee. But it's not just about saving people money, although that obviously helps. Many tradespeople have struggled since last year and I honestly feel that during the good times a minority perhaps didn't focus on customer care as much as they should have done. We make sure we turn up when we say we will, do the job the customer requires and leave their house as clean as a whistle. I often get comments back from customers on how they really didn't expect that sort of service which, in a way, is very sad for the service industry as a whole.'

Cloudy2Clear service the Crosby, Litherland, Aintree, Maghull, Walton, Anfield, Netherton, Bootle, Formby, Ormskirk and Skelmersdale areas & Paul is finding that his approach is a major factor in his success. 'The truth is that it's not just the personal satisfaction that I get from doing a good job but also it makes good business sense. I get a huge amount of business from friends and family of people I've done work for, which just goes to show how much a little bit of effort is appreciated.'

Festival raises £2,500 for cancer charity

THE annual Hesketh Bank Festival of Transport, organised by Brian Moorcroft, raised more than £2,500 for a national cancer charity.

This year's event at Hundred End Lane, the 15th, was attended by more than 1,000 visitors who took the opportunity to view more than 150 classic cars and motorbikes.

The money raised will be donated to Macmillan Cancer Care.

New addition to MotorFest

ORGANISERS of the popular Ormskirk MotorFest have announced a new attraction at the annual event.

The Concours de Elegance competition will see some of the most superb cars and motorcycles at MotorFest on Sunday, August 30 lined up in a special area in Coronation Park where judges will cast their expert eye over them.

Winners will be selected in each of 13 classes, along with an overall winner, including a special class for cars from 1955 to mark the 60th anniversary of the first British Grand Prix at Aintree Circuit Club and the 60th anniversary of the first MGA car.

There will also be a class for supercars with top speeds of 175mph and above.

Judges will include Neville Hay, a well–known motorsport broadcaster, commentator and historian.

Ormskirk MotorFest is organised by Aintree Circuit Club and supported by West Lancashire Borough Council.

The Concours de Elegance is being sponsored by Halsall–based Carequick Ltd. Air Conditioning.

Carequick managing director, Colin Maxwell, said: "I'm a keen motoring enthusiast and I've entered a car into the Ormskirk MotorFest for the last three years. The first year I had a TVR S2 on display and for the last two years I have put in a Porsche 911 Targa. So, as a local businessman, I thought it would be good to support the MotorFest by providing some sponsorship for this exciting new event."

Mike Ashcroft, chairman of Aintree Circuit Club, said: "We are really excited about the Concours de Elegance which will give us and the vehicle owners the chance to show off some of the most beautiful cars at the MotorFest in a really special way.

"Some superb vehicles are brought to the MotorFest which would be worthy winners of a Concours de Elegance at any motoring event and we believe this will add a great competition element to the day."

To enter the Concours de Elegance cars must also be entered for the MotorFest displays as a whole. To enter your vehicle in the Concours de Elegance visit www.ormskirkmotorfest.com.

It is free to put your vehicle into the general MotorFest display, but £10 entry into the Concours.

Cars and motorcycles not taking part in the Concours De Elegance will also be lined up in Coronation Park and streets across Ormskirk town centre. Between 250 and 300 fabulous cars and motorcycles from all eras of motoring will be in display and many of them will take part in exciting parade laps around the town centre.

Teenagers presented with awards for voluntary work

Report by Danielle Thompson

TWO teenage volunteers have been given awards for their work in the community.

Laura Louise O'Neill, 18, and Sarah Brimage, 16, both volunteer with The Grove Community Association charity based at The Grove Youth, Community and Children's Centre in Burscough.

The charity supports a group of young volunteers aged 14 to 18 who help to deliver the charity's summer positive activities programme for eight to 13–year–olds.

The volunteers, who act as mentors or 'buddies' to the members who attend the activities, also serve in the tuck shop, register new members, support activities and do general daily tasks.

Sarah is presented with the Meda Westley Award

Laura was presented with a certificate from West Lancashire Council for Voluntary Service in recognition of 100 hours of volunteering by the Mayor of West Lancs, Councillor Nikki Hennessy.

Meanwhile Sarah received the Meda Westley Young Volunteer of the Year award and gift voucher for her contribution during last summer's activity programme. The award is given to the most outstanding volunteer each year in honour of the late Councillor Meda Westley, a founder member of The Grove Youth and Community Centre.

Sarah was presented with her award by Councillor Ruth Melling, chair of The Grove Community Association, and Meda Westley's widower, Keith.

Sue Lamb from the Grove Community Association said: " Sarah and Laura are just two of our volunteers who have been recognised for their achievements over the last 12 months. Several other young people from the group were also recognised for 100 and 200–hour awards but were unable to attend so congratulations to each of them too."

Search for village's 'Best Kept' gardens and businesses

VILLAGE residents and businesses are being encouraged to 'look smart' for a chance to win tickets to a prestigious national event on their doorstep.

Hesketh Bank Parish Council have announced that the winners in their 'Best Kept' competition will win tickets to the Southport Flower Show.

The parish council have once again submitted an entry to the Best Kept Village competition this year. And, as part of that, and their ongoing 'Love Hesketh Bank' campaign, they are running their own 'Best Kept' competition.

The Hesketh Bank 'Best Kept' competition will see judges tasked with finding the best front garden and business premises in the village.

And residents don't not have to do anything – except keep their gardens and businesses looking smart!

The judges will do the rest and tey will have a completely open criteria for their choice, although they will be asked explain their decision.

Judging will take place during the first three weeks in July and winners will be announced at the end of the month with tickets to Southport Flower Show as prizes.

Celebrity chefs and health experts talk tripe about food

I HAVE three concessions to healthy living – walking, daily morning porridge (apart from holidays when I treat myself to full English), and vegetables and fruit (mainly bananas).

My dinner, even if it's a curry or stir–fry, invariably includes broccoli – and carrots. In fact, the only veg I really do not like are butter beans (and that is probably down to school dinners).

My late mother told me that I always enjoyed my greens.

When I must have been three years old apparently I was found trying to feed my then baby brother George cabbage – because I'd been told it was good for me and having decided for myself it was good.

The one vegetable that puzzles me though is the Brussels Sprout. Everybody eats them with Christmas dinner – and then pulls faces if anyone mentions them at any other time.

Yet perversely they are sold throughout the winter months and are always available (and apparently saleable) frozen all year round. The vegetable that dare not speak its name?

I honestly cannot understand why today's kids generally profess to dislike green vegetables as much as they do. Perhaps I was lucky to have been born when I was, just after the war, when folk tended to eat whatever was put in front of them and grew up thinking that such foods as liver, kidneys – and cabbage were not only good for you but tasty too.

Mind you, I reckon the TV celebrity chefs have a lot to answer for.

Not that long ago for instance offal generally was thought by many to hardly be fit for human consumption.

Now, unhappily for me, they are being taught differently – and these days if a celeb does something, everybody has to follow.

So such food items as offal, or pig's belly or rabbit or for that matter tripe (which I love) which used to sell very cheaply, are now expensive niche items.

Mind you, the minefield which is what is currently counted as healthy and what should be shunned has recently become far more clear – for me at least.

According to the latest studies from the US, eggs have now officially got the green light, along with other dairy products and sunflower cooking oil. And apparently our native Government is expected to follow suit in the near future.

All of which is good news to me.

Now if they would only do the same for chocolate, my personal plate would indeed runneth over!

One thing that puzzles me concerns bread – you know, 'the staff of life'. I always preferred brown bread to white.

But a problem has occurred.

It might be just me, but it does seem that many wheatgerm loaves these day are unfit for purpose (to use a popular phrase).

Try buttering it and you run the risk of unholy holes appearing.

Fold a slice over and it tends to crumble as though the mice have been at it. All very frustrating.

But then, I guess it's all part of life's rich pattern.

And were my mum still with us, I'm quite certain she'd tell anyone in earshot that I abhor skimmed – or semi–skimmed milk for that matter.

And this time she'd be right. It's an abomination.

Young fencer wins second adult bronze

Report by Henry James

TALENTED fencer Richard Michell has won his second bronze medal in an adult fencing tournament at the Cumberland Open in Carlisle.

The Scarisbrick Hall School pupil dispelled concerns about his fitness, having not fenced for a couple of months due to exams, by battling through to the last four before losing to the eventual champion.

All fencing events start with seeding fights, called poules, which are used to determine the rankings for the direct elimination fights that follow.

Richard had mixed results in the poules, winning three and losing three, but quickly focused on the task of winning the elimination fights.

In the last 16 Richard faced Joss Horn, a student from Aberdeen with a similar ranking to himself, and dominated the contest to win by a commanding 15–6.

Next up was top seed, Mark Lauchlan from the Wallace Fencing Academy, who won the silver medal at the Glasgow Open in April.

Lauchlan was a warm favourite but Richard surprised him winning 15–12.

That took him through to a semi–final pairing with Jonathan Bullock, Northumbria University's epee team captain, who raced into a 7–2 lead by the end of the first period.

Richard Michell

However, in the second period, Richard fought back and worked his way back into the contest to take the fight to a third period.

Unfortunately, Jonathan's early lead proved too great and the match ended with a final score of 15–12 and he then went on to win the final and a well–deserved gold medal.

Richard would like to thank coach David Stobbs, Lancashire County Council for their award from the Champion for Young People's budget and Adrian Shandley of Premier Wealth Management, for his continued sponsorship.

Community groups urged to bid for funds

COMMUNITY groups in the borough are being encouraged to bid for their share of £75,000 of funding from Lancashire's Police and Crime Commissioner.

Grants of up to £2,500 are available from Clive Grunshaw's Community Action Fund for grassroots projects that make a "real difference."

This year, £25,000 more than last year is being made available to support groups that help the commissioner achieve his priorities of protecting vulnerable people and tackling crime, re–offending and anti–social behaviour.

For more information on how to apply for funding, visit www.lancashire–pcc.gov.uk /partnership/commissioners–community –action–fund.

Chance to find out more about adoption

PEOPLE thinking about adoption are invited to an information evening to find out more.

The event will be held on Wednesday, July 8 at County Hall, Preston, from 6 to 7.30pm.

Following a short presentation, Lancashire County Council's adoption team, including social workers, will be available to answer questions, talk local through the process and offer confidential advice.

County Councillor Matthew Tomlinson, Lancashire's cabinet member for children, young people and schools, said: "We need people from all backgrounds to offer a permanent home and family to children who are not able to live with their birth family.

"You must be over 21, and live in Lancashire or close by, but whatever your race, gender, sexuality, living arrangements, age or employment status we want to hear from you.

"What matters to us are your personal qualities and that you are able to provide a loving home where you can support and look after a child throughout their childhood and beyond."

Further details are available online at www.lancashire.gov.uk/adoption or by calling the adoption team on 0800 195 1183.

Learn about the power of words with Gyles Brandreth

Report by Henry James

GYLES Brandreth brings his new show Word Power to The Atkinson on Sunday, July 26.

Audiences are invited to join Brandreth, who is an Edinburgh Fringe award winner, as he discusses the world of words.

He is a former MP and Government Whip, Just A Minute regular, One Showreporter, QI, Room 101, Have I Got News For You and Countdown survivor.

He has said: "No matter how eloquently a dog may bark, he cannot tell you that his parents were poor but honest." During the event in Southport, he will talk about the power of language and the magic of words.

Staff at the Atkinson are recommending that people book early as Brandreth's last two Edinburgh shows were sell–outs.

Giles Brandreth:Word Power comes to The Atkinson on Sunday, July 26 at 2.30pm. Tickets are available online attheatkinson.co.uk or by calling the Box Office on 01704 533333. They are also available over the counter.

Orchestra close season with 'Power and Majesty' concert

CROSBY Symphony Orchestra go to town for their 2015 season finalé with their 'Power and Majesty' themed concert.

This concert, this Sunday (July 5) at 2.30pm, marks the Crosby–based orchestra's return to the Philharmonic Hall in Liverpool following its recent refurbishment.

The concert opens with Walton's Spitfire Prelude and Fugue. Written for the film The First of the Few, it depicts the mechanical and emotional power of the legendary aircraft, with noble march–like tunes and an adrenalin–fuelled ending!

The piece in fact was first played in the Philharmonic Hall in 1943 by the RLPO, conducted by Walton himself.

The Porgy and Bess Symphonic Picture has all the jazzy big band rhythms, jangling banjo tunes and sultry, rich string sounds you'd expect from its composer, Gershwin.

Familiar numbers such as Summertime, Bess, You is My Woman Now, It Ain't Necessarily So and I Got Plenty O' Nuttin, will get you singing along or at least tapping your feet! Porgy and Bess tells a tragic love story from the Deep South of America, its bitter–sweet melodies vividly conveying a sense of those troubled times.

Ian Tracey, eminent local organist features as the soloist in Saint–Saëns Symphony No.3, the 'Organ' Symphony. Listen out in this work for a couple of tunes 'borrowed' by pop music artists. The symphony unfolds to a majestic, powerful finale with a large orchestra and organ at full volume .

Edward Peak, another well–known local musician, conducts the programme. Edward recently won a Wirral Award for his services to music and the community which was presented to him by the Lord Mayor of Wirral in March.

The concert starts at 2.30pm and tickets are available at www.liverpoolphil.com

Sister Act 'was a fabulous show packed with energy'

Review by Ron Ellis

- Sister Act
- Southport Spotlights
- Little Theatre, Southport

YOU knew this was going to be something special when a crowd of nuns were assembled at the theatre entrance to greet the patrons as they came in. And something special it was.

Lauren Murphy was outstanding in the Whoopie Goldberg role of Deloris, the night club singer who has witnessed a murder and is sent by the police to a convent to protect her from the killer.

Adrian Roberts played the man who committed the deed, chubby gangster Curtis Jackson, with a surly panache, and gave a nice rendition of 'When I find my baby'.

The young police lieutenant, Eddie, who had a crush on Deloris, was played by John Delahunty who looked like a young Frank Sinatra as he sang 'I could be that guy'.

Blessed with the best throwaway lines, Marie Orr showed a great grasp of comedy as the Mother Superior, persuaded to accommodate the wayward stranger.

Rob McGregor was able to use his Irish lilt to good effect, standing in for Tom Hornby on the night as Monsignor O'Hara, whilst Beth Milligan, as the novice Mary Robert, showed her vocal talents in 'The life I never led'.

The highlight of the night was Sunday Morning Fever, an archetypal 70's disco anthem, sung by most of the large, talented cast, which had all the audience clapping fervently along, illuminated by two large disco mirror balls above the front of the stage.

Choreographed by Jackie Morris, the dancing throughout was exhilarating, enhanced by a variety of sparkling costumes.

Credit too to the backstage staff who had to cope with a non–stop change of sets, ensuring the show ran smoothly.

This was a fabulous show, packed with energy and vitality, accompanied by a pulsating soundtrack played by a superb 11–piece orchestra, under the direction of Charles Moss, that made period pieces like 'Carousel' and 'The King And I' look as relevant as a foxtrot at a disco.

In a recent review in the Champion, I said that an excellent professional production of 'The Producers' was 'nearly as good' as the one done a few months earlier by Southport Spotlights' .

Well, 'Sister Act' here was better than the West End production I saw, good as that was. Yet another triumph for the director, the indefatigable Stephen Hughes–Alty.

There are still a few seats left before the last night on Saturday. Book now. This is a show not to miss.

But one warning. Bring plenty of bottles of water. I have been in cooler saunas. Whatever happened to air conditioning? Good for the ice cream sales though!

Star Rating. 9 out of 10. A great night out.

Evening to celebrate music from movies and musicals

ONCE again the Southport Orchestra will produce another concert on the theme of music from the movies and excerpts from musicals as it did with success two years ago at the Floral Hall.

This time the Grand Summer Concert will take place at the Atkinson, Lord Street, Southport, PR8 1DB at 7.30pm on Saturday, July 11. As usual the Orchestra will perform under its regular conductor, Jeff Rimmer and with its leader Melanie Forster.

The audience will again be treated to pieces from stage and screen, some familiar music and some a little less so but all equally wonderful and easy on the ear.

Among the treasures included in the orchestra's selection for this summer concert are pieces from musical shows such as Les Miserables, Fiddler on the Roof and the Sound of Music.

Other gems to be performed are excerpts from the Carmen Suite by Bizet, and Phantom of the Opera.

Admission is £2 for Adults and free for under 16's. All proceeds will be going to NWCR (North West Cancer Research) including Clatterbridge Hospital www.nwcr.org. All monies raised locally for local people.

On the day itself there will be charity stalls in the hall, including a cake stall, and tombola. Refreshments will also be on sale.

All classic cars and bikes are welcome, the only criteria for joining in on the day is that you love your car/bike. It is a very easy going day, very relaxed, no prizes or awards, all cars/bikes are winners in their owners' eyes. Gate opens at 8am for exhibitors. Public parking is at the Scotch Piper Inn. Blue Badge/Disabled parking in the front car park of the Parish Hall.

The original idea for the car show came from Shirley Brown who wanted to raise money to help beat cancer after the loss of her husband Ken to the disease. She suggested doing a charity sale and as her son Mike and 2 friends had classic and American cars decided to merge to 2 events together and the rest is history. The show has raised over £15,000 over the last 7 years, last year it raised £4,600.

Champion MOTORS

Skoda's wagon is never short of fun party tricks

Life On Cars
DAVID SIMISTER
www.lifeoncars.blogspot.com

The Skoda Yeti has a talent for swallowing obscene amounts of luggage Code NA

THE SKODA Yeti was the fastest thing on wheels when last weekend's Goodwood Festival of Speed drew to a close.

It was a weird moment of motoring brilliance but it really happened – a car I've long championed as being the best all–rounder you can buy in the real world was faster than a Ferrari California, a Porsche 911 Turbo and a BMW M3 CSL to name but three.

Largely because they were stuck in Britain's longest snake of pre–event traffic and we weren't.

All three of these supercars weren't able to take advantage of the rutted byway we'd found snaking across the fields in a completely different way out of the nation's biggest motoring event.

While it was a road in the loosest terms, it had the sort of frightening inclines, pointy rocks and deep ruts that'd give Land Rover owners second thoughts.

But I've long maintained the Yeti is a shrunken Discovery, and sure enough it was skirting its way around every obstacle, leaving the miles of traffic behind. Mr 911 Turbo, I imagine, is still stuck in that jam now!

So the Yeti – with its short overhangs and slab sides – is a far better off–roader than it has any right to be. Yet it's also the same car that managed to convey an obscenely long bookcase the previous weekend, and the same set of wheels that whisked me across the breadth of the country comfortably and quietly along the motorways.

Don't get me wrong – it isn't perfect. The air con controls are mounted so close to the gearlever that you're confronted by an Arctic gust every time you go for third, and there's a mysterious button on the centre console marked 'TIM' which failed to summon Messrs Henman, Dalton or Mallett whenever I pressed it.

It's also not quite as sharp to drive as the Golf it's based on, but if anything that's a backhanded compliment. The Volkswagen Golf is Europe's best–selling car and its party trick has been to spawn all sorts of other cars using roughly the same ingredients, which is why the Audi A3, the Volkswagen Scirocco and the SEAT Leon all feel a bit familiar. But I reckon the Yeti – by making a Golf so rugged and roomy and yet still feel Golfesque to drive – is by far the best of the bunch.

Yes, on paper the quickest Golf of them all is the 300bhp Golf R. But give me a rutted track, a bookcase and a traffic jam to deal with and I know which I'd bet on.

Former footballer and manager dies, aged 79

Cup action as Ipswich overcame Maltese side Floriana 14–1 in the first round before being paired with eventual winners, AC Milan. Despite winning their home leg 2–1, Ipswich went down 4–2 on aggregate to the Italian giants.

He moved on to play for Barrow but following injury he retired from the full–time game in 1967.

After management stints at Burscough and Formby, for a long time he gave his experience to local team Burscough Legion, where he helped develop a lot of local talent. He came to back to help Burscough out as manager in the 1990s and helped to stabilised the club.

Larry continued to live in the area and sons David and John joined the coaching staff at Burscough, as did his son–in–law Alex Blakeman.

Grandson Liam Blakeman was a member of the Burscough FA Cup team that beat Gillingham and famously drew Manchester United in 2005/06, and is now assistant manager himself, the third generation of the family to serve the club.

Locally, Larry will be best remembered as a smiling man who never boasted about what he had achieved, but would always offer a word of friendly advice to anyone if asked.

He will be missed by many people in the local football fraternity and beyond.

The funeral will take place at noon on Monday, July 6 at St John's Church, Burscough.

Jones and Glayzer pile on runs before bowlers seal victory

Firth fires out five for S&B as Formby dismissed for just 96

ORMSKIRK are in second place in the Liverpool & District Cricket Competition Premier Division after they recovered from a disatrous start having three wickets down for just four runs at one stage at Northern to post a total of 213 all out.

This was thanks in the main to opener Michael Jones (89) and in form skipper Matty Glayzer (80) who added a vital 150 run partnership for the fourth wicket.

Ryan Maddock 4–36 and Tom Sephton 3–70 took the bulk of the wickets.

In reply Maddock then top scored with 56 as the hosts were dismissed for 144, thanks to Liam Hurt 4–35 and Lancashire's Simon Kerrigan 3–36.

Southport & Birkdale upset the odds to record a 4 wicket win at title contenders Formby. The hosts chose to bat first on winning the toss but they were dismissed for just 95 with Hasseb Hameed the only Formby batsmen to make any kind of score with 31, as Southport's Chris Firth 4–17 and Chris Brownlow 3–19 produced their most consistent bowling spells of the season.

In reply, Guy Edwards (30), Josh Bohannon (19*) and James McCombie (18) all played their part as S&B sealed victory on 97–6, with Alex Lines 5–41 taking the bowling honours. The result leaves Formby in third place in the table behind leaders New Brighton who stay top after beating Wallesy by 57 runs on Saturday, and Ormskirk, and two places above S&B.

Bootle sank to the bottom of the division after a comprehensive defeat six wicket defeat at home to Lytham. Bootle were dismissed for a total of 153 which the visitors chased down for the loss of 6 wickets in the 39th over.

This weekend's local LDCC Premier League fixtures: Leigh v Formby, Ormskirk v Lytham.

Burscough batsmen make light work of chasing down 220

BURSCOUGH remain top of the Second Division after a 7 wicket home win over Hightown St Mary's.

The visitors were asked to bat and thanks to a fine century from Kamran Hussain (106 inc 12x4 &3x6) and 31 from Matt Laybourne put a very respectable 220–6 dec total up on the board, with Jon Stone taking 3–53.

The hosts reply was built around a brilliant team batting performance that saw Ryan Hughes (71), Australian Navdeep Aujla (64), Lee Berrie (39), Brendan Domigan (18*) and Stone (10*) all contribute to a winning total of 222–3.

Skelmersdale lost by six wickets to Orrell Red Triangle. No Skem batsmen could post a score of more than 16 as that were dismissed for 117 with Tom Jones taking four wickets for 34 runs. The total proved no problem for Orrell RT who chased it down for the loss of four wickets, Bevan Small top scoring with 43.

In the First Division, second placed Maghull lost by 7 wickets at home to Wigan.

Skelmersdale go down to Orrell after failing to post imposing total

The hosts elected to bat and managed to put 174 up on the board, thanks in the main to Declan Devine (36), John Fitzgerald (34) and Liam Crilly (28), whilst Derbyshire all rounder Matt Critchley took 3–38 with the ball.

In reply Wigan skipper and former New Zealand batsman Aaron Redmond led from the front with an unbeaten 98 and Critchley hit undefeated 52 as the visitors wrapped up victory on 177–3.

Fleetwood Hesketh are now on equal points with Maghull after a huge 129 run home win over Sefton Park.

After choosing to bat first the hosts made good use of a flat track to post 225.

This was thanks to valuable contributions with the bat from Lee Rimmer (64), Tasmanian Harry Nichols (42), Neil Rimmer (25) and Derek Sykes (24), whilst the pick of the bowlers was Daniel Kelly with 4–63. In reply Sefton got off to a disastrous start and were soon 0–3, 5–5 and then 14–6 before they were eventually dismissed for 96 with skipper Richie Forsyth unbeaten on 24, while Matt Collins helped himself to 5–13 with the new ball.

Ainsdale slipped into the bottom two after going down by 6 wickets at Rainford.

The visitors were put in to bat and duly bowled out for 133, with Mark Lucas (25) and Sam Lucas (24) top scoring, whilst Andrew Davies 5–30 and IPL star Pravin Tambe 3–33 took the bowling honours.

In reply Tambe then weighed in with 49 and Joe Noctor hit an unbeaten 61 as Rainford sealed victory on 134–4.

This weekend's local LDCC First and Second Division fixtures: Maghull v St Helens, Old Xaverians v Skelmersdale, Caldy v Burscough and Hightown St Mary's v Orrell Red Triangle.

School make county cup final

ORMSKIRK'S St Annes RC Primary School year 6 football team reached the finals of the Liverpool Cup under 11s final held at the Liverpool FC Academy in Kirkby. The team had won 10 matches to get to the semi–final when the beat Farnborough 2–0 thanks to a great performance from the goalkeeper, Dan McCoy, with goals from Matthew Oxton and Lewis Crotty. McCoy was man of the match in the final against St Pauls from West Derby with a string of fine saves, but despite his best efforts they lost 2–0. The school thanked the staff at LFC for a "great experience for the pupils."
